Milgard sets the standard for vinyl patio doors. We extrude our own vinyl patio door components using our custom vinyl recipe to deliver the best quality, consistency and durability. In fact, many of our vinyl patio doors actually meet light commercial ratings, and meet or exceed the criteria for structural integrity and reliable performance established by the American Architectural Manufacturers Association (AAMA). All are available in custom sizes and covered by our Full Lifetime Warranty.¹

You'll love our worry-free vinyl patio doors. They won't warp, crack or peel. Nor do they absorb moisture. That means you can depend on them to slide open easily in any weather. What's more, they are energy efficient, so they help keep your home comfortable as well.
